CLOPING EXERCISES OF THE WINCHESTER PRESBYTERY .- The interesting scenes attending the Fall Session of the Winchester Presbytery, (N. S.,) were brought to a close, in this city, on Saturday night, and were distinguished for their solemnity. After an able and impressive sermon from the Rev. Henry Matthews, of Shepherdstown, Va., in which the doctrines of the vicarious death standard of faith in the Presbyterian Churchwas fully and ably discussed, and listened to with much satisfaction by the audience present. At the conclusion of the sermon, the rator, Rev. Patterson Fletcher, of Middlevarious pulpits in the city on the coming unavoidable absence of some of the members prevented a more satisfactory arrangement in this particular. The Rev. T. D Bell, of Harrisonburg, Va., then proceeded to read, in accordance with the usages of the Church.

next session in Leesburg, Va. This is the first session of this body that has been held in this city, since the connexion formed with it by the Second Presbyterian Church, and constitutes one of the most efficient ecclesiastical bodies connected with the 'United Synod' in this State, and is distinguished for the very prominent and demovements of the northern judicatures on the subject of slavery, and from whom they have recently separated. Its declared principles are non-intervention but with a strong might have resulted from this wilful attempt Southern bias discernable in all its proceedings. It is composed mostly of young men -ardent in piety-talented, and devotedly attached to the cause of their Divine Lord and Master. We wish them every success in their undertaking, and hope that they may always leave behind them in their Presbyterial capacity, impressions as favorable to their recent meetings in this city. ATTEMPT TO THROW A TRAIN OF CARS OFF THE TRACK -- As the 4 o'clock train of cars on the Washington Branch of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad, was coming towards Washington, on yesterday morning, when about three miles from Beltsville, the engineer discovered some obstruction upon the track and at once gave the signal and stopped the train, not, however, until it had struck the obstacle, which upon examination heavy portion will be made of oak plank, proved to be three cross ties, so placed, that cided stand taken in resisting the aggressive had they not been seen, the train must have been thrown from the track. The discovery was most fortunate, as serious consequences to destroy life and property.

PAVING KING STREET -- We were yesterday shown a petition, numerously signed by property holders on King street, praying the City Council to have that street repayed, according to the provisions of the Amended their eminent success, as they have done in Charter of the city. We hope the Council will comply with the request of the petitioners and let the work be begun at once. We know of no greater improvement to the appearance or welfare of the city than that our main thoroughfare should be improved. In its present condition, the street is a reproach to the community, and the sooner it is repayed the petter for the property holders, and for the city generally.
